Whether you're looking to entertain, rejuvenate, or simply live in unmatched opulence, this building is designed to exceed every expectation.

The Most Luxurious Home Spa Ever...

This is not just a spa; it's a retreat that rivals the finest wellness centers globally. Imagine unwinding in absolute tranquility, enveloped by sophistication and indulgence. Equipped with the world's finest fitness equipment, the gym is not merely a room with exercise machines but a beautifully designed space that inspires and motivates. Whether you are a fitness enthusiast or a professional athlete, the spa caters to every need.

No Expense Spared Finishes...

Utilizing finishes and fixtures from world-leading brands, the spa exhibits a commitment to quality that's second to none. Every surface, every detail reflects meticulous attention to excellence, exuding an air of uncompromising luxury.

A combination of exquisite finishes by Rimadesio create not just a beautiful wall cladding system but also conceal a wealth of storage space with the most exceptional interiors. Clad in taiga wood the 'Cover' system central wall feature conceals hidden cupboards an inset television and home automation control monitor. The back wall provides a full height wardrobe and further storage. The 'Sail' sliding door system, finished in dark walnut provides an elegant entrance to the steam room and privacy screens in the bathroom

Rimadesio

Climate Conscious...

Designed to cater to worldwide applications each building is constructed to be location specific. The building structure is tailored to exceed regional building codes be they high velocity wind zones like the Caribbean, earthquake regions or severe mountain locations. Heating, cooling and insulation values are adjusted accordingly.

The spa's architecture is a confluence of creativity, innovation, and elegance. The use of geometric forms, expansive glass, and a harmonious blend of materials create a timeless design that stands as a testament to modern architectural artistry.

This building is manufactured entirely from 100% recyclable materials and is designed to preserve the environment by providing exceptional thermal insulation performance minimising running costs and reducing power consumption.

Sustainable, Solid and Secure...

A robust structural steel frame supports the building. The windows are designed with both aesthetics and safety in mind. The highly insulated walls and roof are finished in an innovative acrylic skin. The ultra-thin frame windows offer a sleek, modern appearance, while the laminated impact-resistant glass provides added protection against break-ins and damage from environmental factors such as storms. Double glazing adds an extra layer of insulation, maintaining the interior temperature, thus contributing to energy efficiency.

Exquisite wall cladding and cabinetry by Rimadesio...

A combination of exquisite finishes by Rimadesio create not just a beautiful wall cladding system but also conceal a wealth of storage space with the most exceptional interiors. Clad in taiga wood the 'Cover' system central wall feature conceals hidden cupboards an inset television and home automation control monitor. The back wall provides a full height wardrobe and further storage. The 'Sail' sliding door system, finished in dark walnut provides an elegant entrance to the steam room and privacy screens in the bathroom.

Sauna

The sauna is a masterpiece in itself. Adorned with exotic wood furniture and atmospheric lighting, it provides a unique and invigorating experience. Separated from the bathroom with hand crafted wall panels, this is a space where the traditions of the sauna meet contemporary elegance.

Modular Makes Sense...

Modular home construction, also known as prefab or off-site construction, presents many compelling advantages over traditional, or on-site, construction. Modular homes can be built much faster than traditional homes because construction can happen simultaneously with site work. This can reduce the overall construction time by as much as 50%.

Modular homes are built in a controlled, factory environment, which allows for better consistency in construction standards. The construction process is not affected by weather or other external factors, reducing the likelihood of defects. Because they are constructed in factories, modular homes can make more efficient use of materials, reducing waste. They also often incorporate sustainable materials and energy-efficient designs.

Total Touch Screen Control...

Convenience meets sophistication with the integration of the latest smart home technology. Ebony is equipped with a silent running, low energy heating and cooling system concealed behind the exquisite wall paneling. A Sonos integrated sound system. Automated heat recovery central ventilation system. Optional roof mounted solar power generation. Electrically operated privacy and shade blinds. All of which can be controlled in the touch screen control center or using the Ebony app on a mobile device.

Bathroom

The Italian designed bathroom is a statement in luxury. Featuring a walk-in rain shower and crafted with the finest Italian designs, it takes daily routines and transforms them into extraordinary experiences. The materials, the precision in detail, and the overall ambiance make it an epitome of luxury.
